SEALING GEL GALACTIC-WATER-STOP RayTech

The GALACTIC-WATER-STOP single component sealing gel is a soft, extremely sticky, non-dripping substance that allows fast and effective protection of critical areas against penetration or leakage of water. The product can be used, for example, to seal pipe joints, secure the terminals of a car battery, protect connections outside the building or in another place where there is a risk of direct contact of water with the connection. The gel is resistant to the ageing process, retaining its properties for a long time. In addition, the preparation can be used repeatedly - removed from the protected area and re-entered after maintenance or modification of the connection.
