TWO-COMPONENT RUBBER GALACTIC-ANIMAL-BARR IER RayTech

The GALACTIC-ANIMAL-BARR two-component rubber in the form of a paste allows for quick and convenient execution of local sealing. The product is used to protect cable ducts, conduits, electrical boxes, etc. against getting inside insects and small animals.

Unhardened product has a consistency similar to plasticine, which allows to adjust the shape of the protection for each type of duct and used wires. After hardening, the product becomes a relatively hard, slightly elastic rubber.

The product is non-toxic, safe for people and the environment, and is also characterized by high resistance to UV radiation and the ageing process.

Attention! The product does not provide protection against moisture.
